

The power to improve your neighbourhoods

Want to get involved in the Big Society Agenda – and make it work in your neighbourhood?

Looking for the confidence and skills levels with which to do it?

Look no further than our Working in Neighbourhoods accredited course (NCFE Level 2). It covers a wide range of the essential skills & knowledge necessary for anyone who works in neighbourhoods and it is aimed at anyone who is involved in communities and who wants to get involved in the decision-making process.

What's in it for you?

- A better understanding of your role within your community and how it relates to other organisations working within your neighbourhood – a major factor in making the Big Society work in your neighbourhood
- A range of skills necessary to organise your work, engage with your community and develop your role – a must if you want to make a real difference
- A stronger understanding of the challenges and issues that face different groups within neighbourhoods today – a real benefit if you want to work effectively with various groups

What do you get for your investment?

- A five-day, interactive learning programme, delivered by a qualified and experienced trainer
- Varied methods of delivery including practical exercises, group discussion and networking
- Free supporting handouts and reference resources

What do people think?

We think the course will help you have a real impact on Big Society Working but don't just take our word for it! Here's what successful course participants have said about it:

“Neighbourhood working is essential and effective use of resources in addressing community needs. Professionals need to complete this course.”

“The skills gained and the relationships built between staff and the community will be a strong foundation for the future”

“This course hit the spot. It was delivered in such a way that it has inspired me to want to put learning into action. Formal learning delivered in an informal way.

“I feel much more confident in my role as elected member and look forward to implementing my new-found knowledge”
