

The power to improve your neighbourhoods

How to Effectively Engage with Older People

Looking at both the fears of older people in the community and the positive impact successful engagement can make, this one day workshop introduces the known fears and challenges, the agencies involved and methods you can put in place to help engage with older people in your neighbourhoods.

What's in it for you?

- Improved and informed approach to engaging with older people
- Greater understanding of the impact problems in the community can have on older people
- Know who you can work with and who to contact for support

What's in it for your organisation?

- A more effective approach to engaging with older people
- Improve your organisations interactions with the older people in your neighbourhoods
- Better ability to respond to problems facing older people

By the end of this session you'll be able to...

- Identify common concerns for older people
- Identify the relevant agencies and the work they carry out
- Discuss methods of dealing with distraction burglaries
- Understand ways of dealing with mobility issues
- Approach ways of dealing with fear of crime issues
- Help older people engage in neighbourhoods

What's involved?

An interactive workshop with exercises, theory, research based learning, group discussion activities and networking opportunities.

- Supporting handouts and reference resources
- Lunch and refreshments included
